

BIDEN BAILOUT BILL: STATE FUNDING FORMULA IMPACT

On page 287 of the House Democrats \$1.9 trillion bailout package is a funding formula for how the legislation would allocate direct funding to states. Previous, bipartisan, COVID-19 packages allocated funding based on population. In their partisan $1.9 trillion bailout package, Democrats have changed that formula by adding unemployment as a factor. The impact: those states run by the Democrat majority's political allies disproportionately benefit from an increase in funding.

The following chart displays how much each state is expected to gain or lose from adding unemployment as a factor, instead of basing allocations purely on the share of U.S. population.
